Kevin Stein is the CEO of Delos Insurance, a startup Managing General Agent for homes in catastrophe regions. Delos' patented AI wildfire risk models are created by world-leading wildfire science professors and are vastly outperforming the rest of the industry. Delos uses these models to offer coverage to millions of low-risk homes that the insurance industry mis-categorizes as high risk. Prior to Delos, Kevin worked as an Aerospace Engineer designing imaging, communication, and exploration spacecraft. He holds a masters from Stanford in Aerospace Engineering and a bachelors in Mechanical Engineering from UC Berkeley.
